Jackson-Salahub Pledge Vows

CRAIGEND—The United church in Lac la Biche was beautifully decked with carnations and fresh sweet william on Thursday, July 26 at 11 a.m., when Miss Adeline Salahub, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Salahub of Craigend exchanged vows with Emil Jackson of Elbow, Sask. Rev. Doug Greenough solemnized the ceremony and Mrs. Brinsmead played the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown, floor-length veil and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings. For the special occasion the groom chose a brown suit.

Acting as flower girl was Natalka Salahub, sister of the bride, who wore a floor-length yellow organdy dress with matching head piece. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Matron of honor was Vienna Jackson who wore a floor-length green taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Sun, Rain Help Crops Mature

LAC LA BICHE—High temperatures and an abundance of rain have helped crops mature considerably this past week.

A survey conducted by the United Grain Growers shows that in the area from Camrose north to Lac la Biche and east to the Saskatchewan border, wheat has headed 80 per cent. Most of the coarse grains are heading. Although crops are late they are progressing favorably with the ideal growing conditions.

Wheat and barley are heading in the area from Camrose to Lac la Biche and west.

The continuous downpour of rain is welcomed despite the lateness of the crop.

As there was only one child to confirm this year, the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert St. Jean had taken him to Plamondon to be confirmed with the other children. Mgr. We are all pleasantly surprised to see the work being done on our roads. We hope that by the end of the summer we will have decent roads at last, as they seem to be doing the work well.

The present showery weather is not very good haying weather, but it has improved the grain crop greatly. We will now need warm weather to ripen the grain.

Miss Georgette Amiot, after a few days spent in Edmonton, has come to spend the rest of her holidays at her parents. Big sparklers on Georgette's left hand. Congratulations, Don!

Freedom of the Press

The Anchorage Times, a weekly paper at Anchorage, Alaska, has suspended publication due to newsprint shortage. A recent report in Editor & Publisher states that ten daily newspapers quit in the first six months of 1950. Some papers were bought by their competitors to get their rival's newsprint supplies.

The Edmonton Bulletin is listed as an outright suspension, and not a merger. This would lead the reader to believe that as the Bulletin was not merged with the Edmonton Journal, the newsprint quota would be evenly distributed among other publishers, such as The Edmonton Sun. This is not the case, however, as notwithstanding the fact the Journal had nothing whatever to do with the suspension of the Bulletin and did not combine it with the Journal, the powerful Southam press, publishers of the Journal, got all the Bulletin's newsprint quota.

No other publishers, such as ourselves, who like the Journal "did not buy the Bulletin," were given any opportunity to share in the Bulletin's forfeited newsprint quota. Is this how freedom of the press works in Canada in 1951?

A few years ago a staff writer of the Edmonton Journal won a distinctive award for writing a bit on the Freedom of the Press. We might ask what kind of an article could be written on freedom of the press today when millionaire publishers, wealthy financiers and the newsprint manufacturers combine to keep other publishers from getting a share of the newsprint supplies.

Does Russia Have 50 Bombs

Amid the speculation of many Americans as to the number of atomic bombs possessed by the Soviet Union, it might be a good idea to pass along the opinion of Dr. Harold C. Urey, one of our leading atomic scientists.

Dr. Urey thinks that fifty might be a good guess as to the number of bombs possessed by the Soviet. He says that he is sure that "the Russians have the bomb" and that "they have exploded them.

The scientist does not hesitate to suggest that "if a full-scale war should break out, the bomb should be used immediately and on the most effective target possible." At the same time, he expresses the hope that the nation will not "misinterpret border incidents."

Proposed Spiritual Alliance

A spiritual alliance of the Moslem and Christian world is proposed by Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha, Secretary-General of the Arab League, who concludes that such a group would unite more than half of the men of the earth against a common enemy.

The Arab leader says that the two religions "are founded upon an exquisite high spirituality" and are menaced by the same enemy, "atheistic materialism." He thinks that a spiritual alliance would present "an immense force" able to defend "the supreme moral conception of both religious" and the "peace of the world."

Of course, such a proposal will get nowhere and, probably deserves to get nowhere. To begin with, the leaders of the two religions would have to agree to accept them on terms of equality and this, it is obvious, would be unsatisfactory to both groups.

Edmonton Moslems have the only Mosque in Canada. Could we get an expression of their opinion on this suggestion?

A Magic Town

By JACK SCOTT

The world-shaking subject which this column was to deal with this week has been temporarily abandoned. Instead, if you decide to linger, you'll hear some mellow words that started with a 48-hour love affair.

Couple of hours ago an old pre-war pal of mine walked into my office. He and his attractive wife have spent the last three years in San Francisco. He's been studying there at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music.

Jack Scott

I flung them into chairs and bolted the door because last year around about this time my wife and I spent 48 wonderful hours in the city of the Golden Gate. Since then we've been carrying the torch for San Francisco.

* * * *

There used to be a series of magazine advertisements titled "The Adventure In Your Life Called San Francisco." One novelist called it "The city where things can happen." Another called it "Baghdad-by-the-Sea." It's the kind of place that inspires such sentiment.

Reminded me of the story of the famous Hollywood star visiting there. Her press interview consisted entirely of a paean of praise for San Francisco.

"Well," one of the reporters finally interrupted, "If you like it so much why do you live in Los Angeles and not here?"

"What?" cried the lady, "and have no place left to visit?"

We started trying to add up some of the things that make San Francisco so wonderful. We began with the weather. There's a saying in San Francisco: "If you don't like the weather—just wait a minute."

Because the citizenry never knows what to expect, you often see fur coats on the gals in summer—and they need 'em, too. Except for the morning fogs the city stands usually under a clear, sharp sun, the skyscrapers looking bleached and a mile high (because they're perched atop the city's sharp hills).

No doubt about it, the place has its own distinct mood or atmosphere, at once "Old World" (it has some of the weirdest Victorian gingerbread facades you ever saw) and extremely cosmopolitan (have you ever sat over a drink in the Top O' the Mark, that glass saloon atop the Mark Hopkins Hotel on Nob Hill, and felt like staying several years?).

Part of it, too, is the appeal of many races living together. On a week-end in San Francisco you may eat and drink your way around the world, from "Little Naples," the aromatic Fisherman's Wharf, to the colorful (and very tourist-conscious) Chinatown where several of the restaurants refuse to sell chop suey because it's an American dish.

To one of the annual million-and-a-half visitors or, for that matter, the permanent resident, there's always something to do or see in San Francisco.

Its museums, opera, symphony and baseball are among America's best. A thousand small, hidden eating spots lure the gourmet. The student of architecture may roam the hills and contemplate the worlds most spectacular homes, most of them glass and redwood.

The bridges themselves—the eight-mile-long San Francisco-Oakland bridge and the breath-taking Golden Gate span — are nearly always within the range of your vision to be admired or as escape hatches to the country.

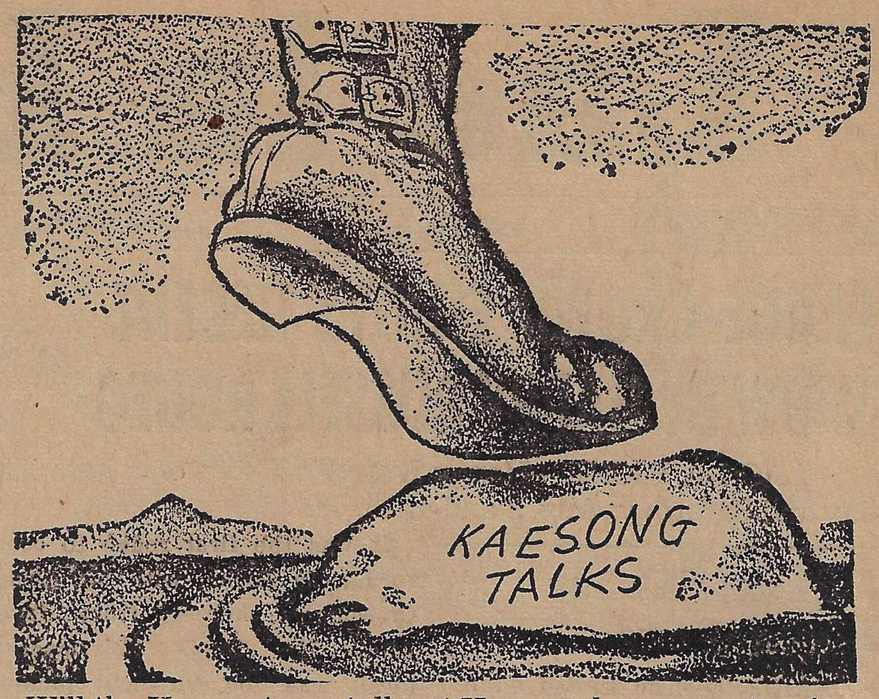

Of course, even in Baghdad-by-the-sea there are some unpleasant aspects. Life is pretty expensive there. There's the feeling of being crowded, too, mainly because of the 25-foot lots, an unfortunate hangover from the Spanish land grant days.

But even so it's a place with its own character and, after two hours of hearing about it, I was wishing I was there. Still, if I were, I'd probably be wishing I were here. That's life.

Mousetown Epidemics Throw Light On Human Ills

English investigators have recently used experimental epidemics to find out more about human epidemics. They have been able to re-create in mice colonies the equivalent of human disease cycles of 30 years in 20 or 30 months. Partial answers have been discovered as to why measles seems to run in cycles of three years, or why diphtheria has a cycle of nine years. It is not that the organisms causing the disease become less virulent, as previously thought, but that newly susceptible individuals enter the population as the old immunes leave.

The results also indicate that individuals living in populations subject to epidemics have a lowered life-expectancy of some 15 per cent. Artificially produced immunity, such as that established by vaccines and serums, will increase the life-expectancy but will not eliminate the disease.

Dear Sir—As chairman of the Edmonton Exhibition parade committee, I should like to tender you my most sincere thanks for your effort and participation in Edmonton's greatest parade. SOLDIERS' CONDUCT

Dear Sir—The writer of the zoot-suit letter in a recent issue had no reason to condemn soldiers the way he did. The army of today is every bit as fine as the one organized during World War II. Instead of idly criticising the servicemen, constructive measures should be taken to improve relations. I admire the boys who are willing to sacrifice their lives to protect mine. Don't you think you owe them something too?

Dear Sir—As an old square dancer for 50 years, I was plumb appalled at the square dance put on in Edmonton. The people of Edmonton should stick to their rhumbas and jitterbugging and stop being a disgrace to a grand western tradition.

WAR PENSIONS

Dear Sir—Ottawa is increasingly bawling for "more production" and even importing workers, and yet by their proposed new pension regulations for disabled veterans, they are going to openly and heavily penalize all disabled vets who do produce. Why?

TOM POULSOM.

BAN SLOW-POKES

Dear Sir—Slow driving on the highway is just as much a traffic menace as too speedy driving. Safety is not jeopardized by speed alone, but by speed plus confusion. Thus the pokey driver who causes another driver to turn out into traffic and meet an accident must share the blame with his speedier brother. A uniform rate of speed is a prime factor in safety, and legislation that will enforce this uniformity is commendable and desirable.

TRUCKER.

WHEN MAN IS IGNORANT

Rear Sir—I had to smile at those Japanese on a remote Pacific island who refused to believe the Allies had won World War II because they had heard no word of the war's end. Just the same, imagine how beserk people in this country and the States would go (remember the phony invasion from Mars a few years ago?) if a responsible press did not keep them informed. The press has a very responsible position as educator and source of information, and should always feel this responsibility.

Bumper Crops Expected in Alberta If Farmers Spared Damage From Hail, Frost

Alberta's crop outlook was reported generally favorable this week—although some aspects gave ground to fears that the crop might be spoiled by freakish weather.

With the province facing a bumper crop year, there's no fear of drought. But there are fears of too much hail and too much rain.

The crop this year is about two weeks later than normal. This is accounted for by the long, cool, wet spring the province had. But the farmers say that given a spell of hot, dry weather, and freedom from hail they'll harvest a bumper crop.

HAIL DAMAGE SPOTTY

Hail damage throughout Alberta has been spotty, though in places severe. Most serious hail storms in north-central Alberta have occurred at Beiseker and Crossfield, near Calgary, at Ponoka, and in the Camrose district.

Given normal weather in August, an abundant harvest will be garnered in Alberta.

Soil moisture and crop conditions are reported good.

In the Edmonton district percentage of crops in head are from 65 to 100 per cent for wheat, and from 15 to 85 per cent of coarse grains. These percentages are the best in the province.

Haying and summerfallow operations have been retarded by the July rains, but are now reported to be underway on a large scale.

Conditions of pasture and livestock continues to be good.

According to the Bureau of Statistics, which has been evaluating the prairie crop outlook, prospects are "optimisitic."

According to the bureau, "Warmer weather in Alberta has speeded crop developments and present prospects indicate excellent yield if weather remains favorable and crops escape frost damage."

According to the Alberta Wheat Pool, the condition figure of the wheat crop stands at 96 compared to 76 at the same time last year.

The Wheat Pool says "Moisture is ample in almost all regions, the only exception being east central Alberta, and the greatest need of the crops at the present time is warm weather to promote rapid growth."

According to the weekly crop report of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways, growing conditions in most districts are excellent.

'Spanish Prisoner' Racket Tried Again in Alberta

The "Spanish Prisoner" racket has popped up again in Alberta, but H. R. Lackey, Killam druggist, didn't fall for the fraudulant letter he recently received from Mexico City.

Mr. Lackey reports receiving a neatly type-written letter from Mexico, in which another variation of the old racket promised him over $100,000 if he would help get the writer out of jail.

The racket has been used on and off, with varying degrees of success, for years. Some people have actually fallen for it, and have lost their life savings as a result.

The letter said that the writer was in prison for bankruptcy, and that if Mr Lackey would go to Mexico City to receive instructions to redeem the sum of $385,000 in a suitcase in a United States custom house, he would receive a third of the sum in compensation for his trouble.

The writer added that Mr. Lackey's name had been given him by a mutual friend, and that it was possible for him to write to him as he was in charge of the prison's school.

The letter was signed with only the initial "V", but referred to a friend with whom Mr. Lackey could correspond in arranging the details.

The friend's name was given as Sr. Luis Cantu Robles, Ave. Chapultepec 264, Mexico, DF.

The writer referred to the proposition as "a very delicate matter on which depends the entire future of my daughter as well as my existence."

The letter added that "Fearing that this letter may not come directly to your hands, I will not sign my own name until I hear from you and then I will entrust you all my secret. I beg you to treat this matter with the most absolute reserve and discretion."

The stroke of a whale's tail, which can smash even a large boat, is the fiercest blow that can be struck by any animal.

FILM WON'T BE MADE HERE

Alberta's tourist-conscious government, which had hoped to show off the province's mountain-beauty in a new MGM film, "White Madness," got disappointing news.

Government officials were advised that the film company, which had planned to make a movie about the Mounties, using the Jasper Park area as the locale, had now decided it would be too costly.

The film will be made in the United States.

Cyclists Find Roads Aren't Like They Hoped

Twenty-seven cycling U.S. tourists will think twice before they believe any more Canadian tourist promotion. They were shown films of "wonderful" Canadian roads, but after cycling from Banff to Jasper, members of the group described the road as "the worst we've ever seen".

LETTER TO LOUISA

Mother is Right In Not Living With Family

Dear Louisa: My father died several weeks ago and my two sisters and I have been urging mother to sell the old home and come live with us.

It is not a matter of money, as mother has an income sufficient to live on. if she continues to live in the old house. She is usually so reasonable, and she could spend a third of her time with each of us. We would not be worried about her staying alone if we knew she was always with one of us. But she seems determined to stay where she is and has asked an un-married cousin of ours, to live with her.

Don't you think she would be happier with us than with a distant cousin in a big lonely house?

DAUGHTER.

Answer:I think your mother is a very wise woman. She will be happier in her own home where she has been mistress for so many years, than she would anywhere else. She will be free to go and come as she pleases, have whomsoever she chooses to visit her, and do as she pleases. She can get up at any hour without disturbing the in-laws and she will not be forever staying home with Johnny or Susie when their parents wish to go gallivanting.

There would be much more worrying about it, if your mother sold her house and moved in with her three daughters. After a while it would make you unhappy to see how much she missed her familiar surroundings. It is good that she has someone to live with her and I am sure you need not worry about her being lonely. If she lives in the same town, you can go to see her every day and if she is not as near, you can write to her often and have her visit you a lot.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa: I have a husband who despises slacks. We are planning to go to the beach and all women will be wearing slacks. I hate to be odd, running around in dresses.

What must I do?

M. E. V.

Answer: Slacks are for the slim, and should never be worn by women who are slightly more than pleasingly plump. Perhaps, that is your husband's objection to them. Why not buy culottes? They are much easier on the eyes of bystanders than slacks, when the wearer bulges in the wrong places.

LOUISA.

The LIGHTER SIDE

She Knew

Ruth—I wonder when Arthur is going to propose? He's been going with me for nearly six months.

Elsie—You'll have to wait six months more. He didn't propose to me for nearly a year.

Now She Knows

Mrs. Brown: "For months I couldn't discover where my husband spent his evenings."

Mrs. Smith: "How did you find out?"

"Well, one evening I went home and there he was."

Honor For Honor

A little girl playing in the sand quickly yielded to a man's charm and slipping her hand in his, strolled with him along the beach.

"My dear," announced the man when the moment for parting came, "if your mother asks you where you have been, tell her you were walking on the beach with Oliver Wendell Holmes."

Innocent of the great fame of her companion, but not to be outdone by him in politeness, the youngster smiled sedately and rejoined: "And if anyone asks you where you have been, tell them you have been walking on the beach with Mary Susanna Brown."

Them

"Tell me at once, doctor, is it 'him' or 'her'?"

"It's a 'them'."

Just Missed

Mr. Smith: "I understand your wife is a finished soprano."

Mr. Jones: "No, not yet but the neighbors almost got her last night."
